

Wisdom's Way

CLASSICAL SCHOOL

What if you could have the benefits of a Classical School education, without the downsides of sending your children out of the home, into a classroom setting, every day? That's the vision behind Wisdom's Way Classical School.

Teach Them Diligently?

We prioritize the biblical command that fathers and mothers are to “rehearse [God's words] continually unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou tarriest in thine house, and as thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.” We believe that – no matter what method parents follow – the best education is the home education.

At the same time, many Christian parents, having been educated by modern methods, desire to give their children a better education than they themselves received.

This has led to the rise of Christian Classical Schools around the country, in which the old methods, from before the era of modern education, are being revived. In Recovering the Lost Tools of Learning, Douglas Wilson argues that a homeschooling parent by himself cannot offer his children as good an education as a Classical School can; it's physically impossible for one parent to learn all of these subjects as well as several different teachers can, thanks to the division of labor. And he's right about that.

Combining the Best of Classical School with Home Education

Wisdom's Way seeks to offer the rigors of a Classical School education, through a classical curriculum and weekly meetings, for a true homeschool setting, in which the children are mainly taught at home. It was designed in the spirit of a homeschool coop: It meets only one day a week, and parents remain the primary teachers of their children; yet it is more serious than a typical homeschool coop.

Like a Classical School, Wisdom's Way hires knowledgeable teachers, offers subjects parents often did not learn themselves in school, and provides a full Christian Classical curriculum. But the real meat of the teaching relationship happens in the home setting, not in the classroom.

Our goal is to provide a curriculum that may be too much for Mom or Dad to teach on their own; and to provide weekly teaching, accountability in a community of others who are teaching the same material, and a forum for asking questions about parts of the curriculum Mom or Dad may not understand. The tutor will also model for Mom or Dad how to teach in the Classical method – not just memory work, but all of the traditional classical subjects.

Commitment

Wisdom's Way Classical School requires a substantial commitment from parents. The children (especially as they get older) have a full slate of assignments to complete at home each week; one parent must be present and actively engaged in our meetings each week; and children should also be trained at home to behave well and participate cheerfully. There is also a financial commitment: A small tuition pays for facility rental, teacher and administrator stipends, and supplies; and each family must acquire all of the required curriculums.

But while a Classical Education requires no small degree of commitment on the part of the parents, restoring the educational legacy of the Reformation to our children is a gift worth sacrificing for. Modern Christian parents, with some research, sacrifice, and a spirit of cooperation, with God's help, can revive Classical Education for our children!

Wisdom's Way

CLASSICAL SCHOOL

OVERVIEW

School Day

All of the Knowledge level students (ages 5-12) will meet together in the morning. The Later Knowledge students (ages 10-12) will split off into a separate group for more formal academic studies at 11:00. At noon, all break for lunch; the Early Knowledge students (ages 5-9) are finished for the day, and the Later Knowledge students will return at 1:00 for afternoon classes.

Course of Study: All Knowledge Students

All Knowledge level students (ages 5-12) will follow the Grammar of Grace curriculum. At our weekly school day, the New Lessons will be taught and drilled. At home, parents must:

1. Review the past 7 weeks' lessons daily.
2. Complete weekly Bible Reading assignments.
3. Complete the other classical coursework (mostly informal), as detailed in Grammar of Grace, at the right pace for each child.

The Grammar of Grace material is cyclical; the same material is taught to students all Knowledge age; there are four cycles, which are each covered twice over the eight years (ages 5-12).

In class, all Knowledge students will also learn:

- Art, through Art Copywork
- Science, through Nature Studies
- Geography
- Greek Alphabet and Phonics
- Hebrew Alphabet and Phonics
- Oral Interpretation

Course of Study: Later Knowledge Students

Later Knowledge students (around ages 10-12) will have academic coursework in addition to the above, following the Christian Grammar School at Home Guide. Each week, students will complete and bring to class these assignments:

1. Reading Aloud & Dictation
2. English Grammar
3. Latin
4. Greek (to be done in class together)
5. Lesson
6. Independent Reading & Summaries
7. Music (will be taught in class; practice at home)
8. Worldview & Early Understanding

The other subjects in the Christian Grammar School at Home Guide are to be completed at home, but are directed solely by parents, not incorporated into classtime:

1. Personal Devotion
2. Journal
3. Read Aloud by Father or Mother
4. Arithmetic (use curriculum and level of your choice)
5. Copywork
6. History Notebook

In addition, in class, the Later Knowledge students will study What Does the Bible Say about That?, by Kevin Swanson, to begin learning correct analytical thinking and discussion. Students should bring their Bibles.

The Later Knowledge assignments are mostly progressive. The Read-Aloud assignments for mother or father to read to the whole homeschool will still be cyclical, for example, but subjects like English Grammar, Latin, Greek, Dictation, and Oral Interpretation will progress for each student, through Year 1, Year 2, and Year 3. As Wisdom's Way Classical School grows, we anticipate we may separate the Later Knowledge students according to their level for those subjects. However, the old American Classical education style is our model, so we will strive to limit age segregation as much as possible.

Flexibility with Ages

The difficulty with the classroom setting is that children develop at different rates, and just as one child's physical coordination might develop earlier or later, one's abstract reasoning ability might develop earlier or later, too. It is important to realize that this is a physical development that occurs in the brain in God's perfect plan for each child. Contrary to conventional wisdom, if God brings these physical changes to pass at a later age than "normal" for one child, this does not mean that this child is "behind", or that his abstract reasoning ability will be less than other people's, in the end. In fact, many of our most brilliant thinkers and inventors were considered "late-bloomers"! When placing their children, parents should ensure that while the material is challenging their child to grow and learn, it is not creating a mental strain. (That could cause lasting harm to the child's abstract reasoning abilities.)

That said, this guideline for Later Knowledge holds up pretty consistently:

- Year 1 = Age 10
- Year 2 = Age 11
- Year 3 = Age 12

School Growth

For schoolyear 2018-2019, Wisdom's Way Classical School will be open to ages 5-10. The next year, we will grow to ages 5-11; the following year, 5-12; etc., until we cover all grades. Parents may use the month of September as a general age cut-off guideline.

In our opening years, parents who have a child aged 11 or 12 who has not learned the material we are teaching, may enroll that child into Wisdom's Way. Those parents should consider supplementing the Year 1 assignments with extra Independent Reading assignments, more challenging Dictation or English Grammar assignments, etc., as appropriate for this student.

Class Format

Class size will be around 8 students; we will add and split (or drop and combine) classes, depending on our numbers, to try to keep each one around that size. One parent must be actively participating in class at all times (unless serving in another class at Wisdom's Way). Since parents will be our Classical School students' primary teachers, it is important that parents model attentiveness in class for their children, and learn the classical lessons and methods taught at school, which they will be teaching at home during the week.

Classroom Manners

Education: The bringing up, as of a child; instruction; formation of manners. (Webster's 1828 Dictionary)

Parents should teach their children good character and good habits at home. They should encourage their children to be alert, cheerful, and ready to work when they come to class each week. Outward actions such as sitting up straight and smiling have been demonstrated to help our brains work better, not to mention forming lifelong healthy habits. Tutors will remind children to use these good manners in the classroom, but parents must not forget that part of education is teaching character, and take the time to train the "inner man" at home, even if it means academics suffer for a time.

Lunch and Playtime

Please pack a lunch and plan to stay and eat together, each week! Meaningful fellowship is one of the valuable benefits Wisdom's Way seeks to bring to our families.

Sick Policy

In case of illness, please stay home. We will miss you, but the priority to limit the spread of illness in our school community. As in all things, "as ye would that men should do to you, so do ye to them likewise." (Matt. 7:12)

Discipline

Parents are responsible to discipline their own children.

Babies and Preschoolers

Preschoolers must be supervised at all times; if there is interest, we will organize a nursery; if not, mothers must ensure that their sweet babes neither disrupt class, nor run off unsupervised. We're packing a lot of academics into a short amount of time, each week, so we need to keep interruptions to a minimum (and honor our host church by not letting our adorable little "loose cannons" run around on their own recognizance).

Chores and Clean-up

Everyone is expected to clean up after themselves and participate in the housekeeping duties each week. Our goal is to make our host church glad we came, not glad we left.

Electronic Devices

Please use cellphones and electronic devices only in case of emergency during school time. Texts, emails, phone calls, and internet searches can all wait until break time or after class. Our school day is very intensive, and we need everyone, including parents, to stay focused.

Trivium Tuesdays

One of the factors that enabled early Americans to give their children such excellent educations was that they lived in community with others who gave their children similar educations. The first Tuesday of every month, we will have an informal mothers (or parents) meeting, to help us all continue learning more about Christian Classical Education. We will read a chapter or two of a book about the topic, discussing as we read. Please plan to come to every meeting. Even if you are already a smashing success at classical education, the rest of us will benefit from your wisdom! "Iron sharpeneth iron, so doth man sharpen the face of his friend." (Pr. 27:17)

Level of Effort

Wisdom's Way is an intensive 30-week schoolyear. The Director and Tutors work hard to provide a Christian Classical School curriculum for the homeschool setting, but parents and students must be prepared to work hard themselves, both on our school meeting day and at home. A Classical Christian education is going to be difficult for those of us coming from a modern education background; but if we are willing to apply ourselves, and work together and combine our strengths, I am persuaded that we can do this!

CLASS SCHEDULE FOR EARLY KNOWLEDGE STUDENTS (AGES 5-9)

9:00 – 9:15 am	Arrive.
9:15 – 9:30 am	Opening Assembly.
9:30 – 10:00 am	New Lessons. Drill Grammar of Grace new lessons for the current week.
10:00 – 10:30 am	Hymn Singing. Led by Jeff Young.
10:30 – 11:00 am	Art, Science, & Geography. (And Music.) Alternate 6-week periods between Art Copywork and Nature Studies. The final 6 weeks of the year will be Geography. (Play classical music while they work, when indoors.) Art Copywork: Provide examples of good art for the children to study and copy; use good-quality art supplies. (Weeks 1-6, 13-18) Nature Studies: Each child will create a nature study notebook; each week, the children make little drawings of bugs, plants, or animals; also teaches art. (Weeks 7-12, 19-24) Geography. (Weeks 25-30)
11:00 – 11:15 am	Biblical Languages. (And Music.) (Play classical music quietly during this class, too.) Cycle 1: Greek alphabet. A Greek Hupogrammon worksheets. Cycle 2: Hebrew phonics. New Siddur Primer lessons on whiteboard. Cycle 3: Greek phonics. A Greek Alphabetarion lessons on whiteboard. Cycle 4: Hebrew alphabet. Shalom Alef Bet! Pre-Primer worksheets.
11:15 – 11:30 am	Break. Later Knowledge Students break into separate group.
11:30 am – 12:00 pm	Oral Interpretation. Each child either recites from memory or reads for the rest of the class the literary or biblical selection he has prepared. It may be a Grammar of Grace lesson, or anything else. Practice speaking clearly, making eye contact, standing still, and other basic speaking skills. Classmates should ask questions, for the speaker to answer. Children will become comfortable speaking to a group.
12:00 – 12:30 pm	Memory Lessons Review. Review the New Lessons for this week, along with the past 6 weeks' memory lessons.
12:30 pm	Lunch. Each family brings a sack lunch, and enjoys fellowship and playtime.

CLASS SCHEDULE FOR LATER KNOWLEDGE STUDENTS (AGES 10-12)

Course of Study detailed in Grammar of Grace Christian Grammar School at Home Guide
(for 2018–2019, all Later Knowledge students will follow the Year 1 course of study.)

Morning Schedule (9:30 – 11:15 with the Early Knowledge students; 11:30 split into separate class):

9:00 – 9:30 am	Arrival and Opening Assembly.
9:30 – 10:00 am	New Lessons. Drill Grammar of Grace new lessons for the current week.
10:00 – 10:30 am	Hymn Singing. Led by Jeff Young.
10:30 – 11:00 am	Art, Science, & Geography. (And Music.)
11:00 – 11:15 am	Biblical Languages. (And Music.) 11:15 – 11:30 Break.

11:30 – 11:35 am	Recite this week's New Lesson. Go around the room; each child recites the new lesson we learned this week. Students should stand up and recite well.
11:35 – 11:45 am	Oral Interpretation. One student goes each week; the student should put several weeks' worth of effort into preparing a poem or other literary or biblical selection to interpret orally; it may be memorized or read. After performing, brief constructive critique from tutor and fellow students, highlighting areas of strength and areas to improve.
11:45 am – 12:00 pm	English Grammar. Introduce new topic for the week, or review current topic; field questions; informal practice or quizzing on what we've learned.
12:00 – 12:15 pm	Dictation. Tutor dictates something for students write down; this helps students be more motivated in dictation time at home, and gives them more feedback than what they're getting from mother.
12:15 – 12:20 pm	Reading aloud. Tutor chooses something for the students to read aloud (sight reading; it could be from last week's assigned readings, or something entirely new and profitable); students take turns reading. Students are gently encouraged to read aloud well; this gives students feedback on the read aloud time they have at home – other than from mother.
12:20 – 12:30 pm	Independent Reading: Literature. Choose a student to read the vocabulary words and summary that he wrote for Day 1's history reading assignment, another student to read his Day 2 vocabulary and summary, etc. Brief discussion. This provides accountability for both reading assignments and summarizing/writing; review of vocabulary words and the material read; and light discussion.

Afternoon Schedule:

1:30 – 2:00 pm	Latin. Review last week's assignments; field questions; informal practice or quizzing on what we've learned.
2:00 – 2:20 pm	Greek. Introduce this week's assignment; field questions; briefly review last week's assignment.
2:20 – 2:30 pm	Independent Reading: History. Choose a student to read the vocabulary words and summary that he wrote for Day 1's history reading assignment, another student to read his Day 2 vocabulary and summary, etc. Brief discussion. (Same as for History.) 2:30 – 2:40 Break.

2:40 – 2:50 pm	Life Skill. Each student describes what he learned (or work he did) for the Life Skill he is studying.
2:50 – 3:30 pm	Worldview and Discussion. For Year 1, use What Does the Bible Say about That? by Kevin Swanson. Spend three weeks on each of the ten chapters; look up every scripture, read the context of the scriptures, encourage thoughtfulness and discussion. (Tutor will guide discussion such that, even when difficult subjects are brought up, the children's innocence is protected.)

BIBLE

Bible Lesson

What does Matthew 6:9-13 say?

After this manner therefore pray ye,

Our father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done even in earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory for ever. Amen.

Matthew 6:9-13

Bible Passage

PSALM 27

The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?

Scripture Catechism

125. What is the consequence of intemperance, or a lack of moderation? [T]he drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty ...
Proverbs 23:21

126. What will become of drunkards and such? [N]or drunkards ... shall inherit the kingdom of God.
1 Corinthians 6:10

HISTORY

Historic Quotation

What did Adams say to loyalists?

If ye love wealth better than liberty, the tranquillity of servitude than the animating contest of freedom—go from us in peace. We ask not your counsels or arms. Crouch down and lick the hands which feed you. May your chains sit lightly upon you, and may posterity forget that ye were our countrymen!

HEART'S MUSIC

Thomas Campian (1567 – 1620)

TUNE thy music to thy heart;
Sing thy joy with thanks, and so thy sorrow.
Though devotion needs not art,
Sometime of the poor the rich may borrow.
Strive not yet for curious ways;
Concord pleaseth more the less 'tis strainèd.
Zeal affects not outward praise,
Only strives to show a love unfeignèd.
Love can wondrous things effect,
Sweetest sacrifice all wrath appeasing.
Love the Highest doth respect;
Love alone to Him is ever pleasing.

And delight thyself in the Lord,
and he shall give thee thine heart's desire.
Psalm 37:4
